

<<First Name>>,

Have you seen the latest hit piece against me? “A Big Lie garbage peddler named Jim Marchant promises to end gasoline taxes to trick Nevada voters into electing him as Nevada Secretary of State.”

I hope the time spent in artistic rage over modifying a digital image of me that is displayed in the article provided some mental health relief...

Aside from the hearty laughter, I'm grateful for the Halloween inspiration! On the political battleground, sometimes you just gotta laugh and in this instance, a lot!

Jokes aside, I love the opportunity to provide a civics lesson about how my service leading up to becoming your official Secretary of State is inspired by the hope to end the gas tax, stop the invasion at our southern border, address the indoctrination of our children in schools, and more!

When the vote of the people is accurately reflected in our election outcomes, we hopefully select leaders who will serve the interests of We The People!

Even though I'm not your Secretary of State yet, I am compelled to act now in reaching as many Nevada Counties as possible to present abundant proof about the current vulnerabilities posed by using electronic voting machines in our elections!

I'm grateful for Nevada County Commissioners who have listened to cyber experts, constituents, and me express concerns about the risks of failing to act on the clear evidence that our votes are jeopardized by continuing with the status quo.

As your next Secretary of State, I will continue to fight for the sanctity of each valid vote! Together we can assure that our elections are facilitated with integrity and transparency so that leaders enter office who will eliminate unnecessary burdens on the hard-working taxpayers of Nevada! Your support of my campaign with a donation of any amount today will show outraged Democrats that The Big Lie is The Big Reveal!
